

Philip Beliveau

Age: 52

Currently residing in: St. George, VT

Occupation: Renaissance man

Years Racing: 17

Craziest moment in a bike race: Sliding out at 40+ mph descending Middlebury Gap in the GMSR.

Goals for 2010: More wins, podiums, and no crashes.

Claude Raineault

Age: 47

Currently residing in: Underhill, VT

Occupation: Equipment Maintenance Shop Foreman, City of Burlington.

Years Racing: 10

Craziest moment in a bike race: It is scarier seeing a rider going down in a race than crashing yourself.

Goals for 2010: To become a stronger all around rider in 2010, get some solid race results, and continue to be proactive in helping other riders by promoting the GMBC Criterium Series during the racing season.

Tim Noel

Age: 41

Currently residing in: Shelburne, VT

Occupation: CFO of a software company.

Years Racing: not enough (3)

Craziest moment in a bike race: Touching wheels with the person in front of me and not crashing. Scary thinking what the crash would have been like. Euphoric because I did a lot of wobbling and didn't go down.

Goals for 2010: Being better prepared for the early season races, Tour of the Battenkill in particular, not crashing in any crits, being a reliable and valuable teammate, do more cross races after the road season ends.

Steve Colangeli

Age: 40

Currently residing in: East Montpelier, VT

Occupation: High School Science Teacher

Years Racing: 30 (Ouch!)

Craziest moment in a bike race: First year racing at The University of Rhode Island. A large crash happened at the end of a race. One of the riders that crashed had a prosthetic arm. During the crash his arm flew off into the cheering crowd. People were screaming (horrible death screams). He got up, walked over, and screwed his arm back in. CRAZY BUT TRUE!

Goals for 2010: Win a Master 35+ criterium and make it into the money at least 4 times. Top 20 at Gloucester Cross.

Mike Burris

Age: 38

Currently residing in: Shelburne, VT

Occupation: High School Science Teacher

Years Racing: 7

Craziest moment in a bike race: The finish of the Wayne Elliot Memorial Circuit Race. Rubbing elbows on the yellow line at high speed as a mail truck approached in the other lane. Thought it was all over for me.

Goals for 2010: Top 3 in local time trials, Top 5 at Wilmington-Whiteface, solid results in other regional races, and to see someone on our team win one!

Bob Payson

Age: 51

Currently residing in: South Burlington, VT

Occupation: Business

Years Racing: 9

Craziest moment in a bike race: 2005 GMSR circuit race at 6km to go the rider next to me flipped over his handlebars, someone else crashed 200 meters in front of that, and a teammate decided to neglect the yellow line rule. I was sure he was going to be implanted on the front of a Dodge Ram.

Goals for 2010: Manage to stay healthy, be the best domestique possible, and get some top tens.

Bruce Bell

Age: 53

Currently residing in: Stowe, VT

Occupation: Director of Operations

Years Racing: 25

Craziest moment in a bike race: Something crazy happens in almost every race, but racing at 2005 Cyclocross Nationals in the snow and ice was pretty epic.

Goals for 2010: Train hard, race harder, have more fun than ever before with my new teammates.

Alberto Citarella

Age: 37

Currently residing in: Charlotte, VT

Occupation: Finance

Years Racing: Cat 2 17 years ago, just back to racing

Craziest moment in a bike race: Riding with my eyes closed...Try it!

Goals for 2010: To maintain fitness through the winter and through the birth of my second child. Do enough races to get to Cat 3 status. I had the legs at the end of this summer...I think but I wasn't racing.

Christian Verry

Age: 35

Currently residing in: Burlington, VT

Occupation: Medical Doctor

Years Racing: 4

Craziest moment in a bike race: Every corner of every crit I do.

Goals for 2010: To become an active member of a well-organized race team, helping my teammates on race day and enjoyin the entire process. If I wind up racing "The Tour," well that would be great too, but I'm not holding my breath...

Ted Hicks

Age: 48

Currently residing in: Middlebury, VT

Occupation: Software Developer

Years Racing: 20

Craziest moment in a bike race: So many to choose from...Maybe locking handlebars at 30 mph and having enough time to realize things are going to end badly (they did).

Goals for 2010: Finding my inner Forest Gump that will allow me to pedal miles on end with nary a thought like, "Why am I doing this?"
